

What is a Madrikha?

Literally, Madrikh/Madrikha/Madrikhim (male/female/plural) means leader in Hebrew. Functionally, a Madrikha is a community leader or guide, ceremonial officiant, philosophic Jewish counselor, educator, and spokesperson for the Secular Humanistic Jewish community.

It is a title that is earned and ordained following graduation from the Leadership Program of the International Institute for Secular Humanistic Judaism and certification by the Madrikhim professional association known as the Leadership Conference for Secular and Humanistic Jews.
